MACNAMARA CELEBRATES.
The MacNamara staff celebrated last evening on coming off shift by turning loose that weird, unearthly, screeching whistle that had not been heard for four years. The whole city assumed that a fire had broken out at one of the mines and it was not for a few minutes that the siren that shrieks like an anguished soul was recognized.

WILL SELL HIS TRUSTY BURRO FOR BENEFIT OF SWIMMING POOL

When somebody buys a sound, kind, gentle burro belonging to a small boy the fund of the swimming pool will be enriched by a substantial donation representing the entire earthly possession and the dearest treasure of one small Tonopah boy.

The staff of the Bonanza had scarcely got down to the grinding process this morning when the arrival of a delegation of small boys called a halt on the proceedings. The leader of the visitors was a dear little fellow whose freckles marked him as a lover of the outdoor life and a true little sport. He had his speech well prepared and tossed it off with greater uncton than any after-dinner orator.

"Mister," he said, "I want to see Mr. Booth, the swimmin' man."

On receiving assurance that he was addressing the boss the young orator proceeded: "Here, mister, is something for the swimmin' pool from Joe and Willie Hawkes." That's all the speaker got off his proud chest, but it was more than some rich citizens have done. It was Joe who spoke and he wound up his presentation speech by turning over two two-bit pieces to the editor of the Bonanza. The latter was stumped. He felt it was incumbent on him to say something pretty and he did his best, but there was a lump in his throat as he realized the sacrifice the gift represented. As he concluded Joe Hawkes chimed in:

"Say, Mr. Booth, there will be more soon, just as soon as I sell my burro." That ended the interview and the young man and his brother and eight or ten others off their way to school left the Bonanza office well satisfied.

POGANIP VEILS THE MOUNTAINS

EQUINOCTIAL STORM ARRIVES DURING NIGHT WITH TOUCH OF WINTER.

A stiff wind from the east last night brought in a cool wave that lowered the mercury to a point where it reminded a person of the coming of the real cold spell. This morning Mount Butler was lost in a poganip that reached the ground at the base and appeared to be enveloping the camp with promise of snow. When the sun came out at 7 o'clock the foggy atmosphere was dissipated, but the wind continued making the air crisp and invigorating. This is the regular fall equinoctial preceding the Indian summer and is a precursor of the fine weather that always marks this section before the real advent of winter. Yesterday afternoon the first indications of a change were observed when dense black clouds began gathering in the southwest and sound of distant thunder was audible.

ORIZABA SHIPPING HIGHGRADE ORE

PROPERTY HAS OVERCOME THE TROUBLE CAUSED BY WATER IN THE SHAFT.

One carload of high grade ore has gone to the smelter from the Orizaba mine, where the management has experienced so much trouble from water in the shaft. This ore was taken from a mine sunk 85 feet west of the shaft from a depth of 145 feet. At this point the water is almost negligible, demonstrating that the flow comes from crevices local to the shaft owing to the lime formation. The mine is in a little tighter formation which excludes water. The ore is coming from a ledge between four and five feet in width and is averaging $75 a ton. The first carload was an oxidized ore, but the carload that is coming out now is sulphide. The tonnage is secured in the course of developing as the work has not advanced sufficiently to warrant stopping. The new steam equipment is giving excellent satisfaction and the company has provided against interruption through bad roads or delayed railroad transportation by installing tanks capable of holding 15,000 gallons of crude oil. Twelve men are employed.

STRANGER KILLS HIMSELF IN A GOLDFIELD HOTEL

A young man named Garfield arrived last night at the Nevada Hotel in Goldfield and without registering was assigned to a room. Shortly after going to his room a shot was heard and it was found that the stranger had killed himself by shooting in the head. Nothing is known of his antecedents.

AMUSEMENTS

DOUBLE BILL AT BUTLER.

Environment and the evil to which ill surroundings lead one forms the theme of the new drama which R. A. Walsh has made for William Fox, with Miriam Cooper in the leading story of a young girl who is led into the evil ways of a thriving community. The picture will be shown at the Butler this evening. The girl, Mary Ellen (Miss Cooper) is brought to the city by a man's unfulfilled promise to marry her. When the man is murdered she flees from the house to which he has taken her and attempts to make an honest living. She later meets Dr. David Graham (Charles Clary), a friend of the murdered man. He falls in love with Mary Ellen, but turns from her when he learns that she had indirectly been the cause of his friend's death. The girl's story, however, reveals to him the truth, and his opposition vanishes beneath the overwhelming power of his love.

The other feature which will be shown is a two-reel Tom Mix side-splitting comedy, in which the daredevil cowboy introduces some more of his hair-raising horseback stunts. It is entitled "The Soft Tenderfoot" and it will have you holding on to your seat one minute and splitting your sides with laughter the next. Whenever Tom Mix appears come and see him, for you are always sure of getting your money's worth.

Tomorrow, another big program—Charles Ray in "The Millionaire Vagant," a five-reel production, and the one and only Charlie Chaplin in one of his two-reel comedy successes. Be ready for "Intolerance"; it will soon be here.

When a child he became attached to a Russian general in whose household he remained until his patron died. Lenz speaks English, Hindustani, Russian, German and English. (Continued from Page One.)

troops. Every little elevation also holds its machine gun emplacements and all the woods were literally choked with rapid fire.

The British encountered hard fighting at many places, but the magnificent artillery preparation had done much to make the first stage of their drive easier. The past week must have been one of misery for the German troops lying out in this section. A great number of big guns have been pouring a steady stream of high explosive shells into their territory and every now and then the British have put down a barrage which swept the land like a broom. It is known that many German batteries have been silenced in the past few days.

The Russians are determinedly resisting the attacks of the Teutonic allies on the Riga front. After a strong infantry attack of the Germans in the region east of Lemberg, Lot, troops in a counter attack drove the enemy back with heavy losses. In the Oena region, on the Rumanian front, the Germans forced the Rumanians to abandon positions they had previously taken from the Teutons. In the Caucasus region battles between the Russians and the Kurds continue in a freezing temperature with the snow four feet deep in places.

Peking dispatches say that the Chinese government is willing to send 300,000 troops to France if the Entente powers approve. Tokio dispatches say Japan has been sound on this proposition and there are indications that Japan will not oppose such action.
